Dear Friends of Wildlife,

A healthy, diverse and sustainable living Earth: this is what WWF-Canada is working to achieve.

But we can't do it alone. WWF accomplishes conservation results only with the support of donors, like you, who make our work possible. That's why I'm so deeply grateful for your recent gift of $250.00.

With your generous gift, you're supporting WWF's local to global conservation efforts to secure the planet's biodiversity and ensure the survival of species at risk.

And by taking immediate action, you're also helping WWF-Canada's work to find solutions for the most pressing conservation issues of our time. That means fighting climate change, protecting our water and empowering people to take action for our planet.

Together, we are building a future where people live in harmony with nature. Thanks to your generosity, we will work to ensure the abundance and diversity of wildlife and the healthy functioning of natural places in our world.

It's an honour to have your support. Passionate friends like you are so important to us and I thank you once again for your donation.

For a living planet,

Megan Leslie
President and CEO
WWF-Canada

*Dear Lynne + members of the Canadian Cardigan Corgi Club,
Thank you for your donation towards the Australian bushfire emergency fund,
on behalf of our WWF-Australia
partners, and the wildlife they protect.
All the best,
Margot Porter
Manager, Donor Relations*

P.S. Recognising the generosity of amazing supporters like you is important to WWF. You will be recognised as Canadian Cardigan Corgi Club in all relevant donor recognition listings. If you prefer not to be recognised, or would like to update your recognition name, just call our Donor Relations team at the number above or send an email to ca-panda@wwfcanada.org. Thank you again for your generous support!
